1960

Name	What I did after Leaving Homefield Preparatory School	What I am doing now
Lindsay Walton	Went on to study at Kings Wimbledon.	I worked in the oil industry and became an international trader. I retired from oil in 1994 and started my own antiques restoration company, as this was always my passion. I semi-retired from that in 2013. I still play guitar in a trio, Crazy about rugby and still an Honorary Steward at Twickenham. I built a house in Cambridgeshire. I am married and have a son and a daughter and two grandsons.