1963

Name	What I did after Leaving Homefield Preparatory School	What I am doing now
Adrian M. Maitland	Epsom College, then read law and languages at Surrey, London & Vienna Universities, followed by Solicitors' Finals and later the English Bar Exam with honours. Legal apprenticeship in Hamburg, London, Paris & Madrid. Legal translator & court interpreter into English from Romance (French + Spanish) plus Germanic languages (German, Swedish, Danish & Norwegian).	Retired Barrister. I am the eldest brother of journalist, broadcaster, author and playwright: Jonathan J. Maitland
Roger Johnstone	Went to Epsom College, then North Polytechnic to study IT. Worked for Midlands Electricity (and survived two or three take-overs) from 1971 to 2005. Then with the training department of West Midlands Police until retirement in 2016.	Living in Wolverhampton with wife Carole, one border collie and one standard poodle.